PREFACE

Price statistics constitute an essential component of the statistical system, providing valuable information on the behaviour of markets, inflationary trends, and the overall economic environment. Reliable price data are indispensable for policy formulation, economic planning, market intelligence, and informed decision-making by governments, researchers, businesses and the public.

The Department of Economics and Statistics, act as the nodal agency for the collection, compilation, analysis, and dissemination of statistical information in the State, accords high priority to the systematic collection and publication of price statistics. The Department collects and compiles a wide range of price data, including farm prices, wholesale prices, retail prices, market prices, and prices of essential commodities from various centres across the State. These data serve as vital inputs for the estimation of Consumer Price Indices, Wholesale Price Indices, Wage Indices and other important economic indicators. They also support government agencies in monitoring market conditions, formulating policies and undertaking research and evaluation studies.

This publication, Price Statistics 2025, presents a comprehensive compilation and analysis of the price data collected by the Prices Division during the year. The report provides insights into price movements and trends across different commodities over a year, thereby contributing to a better understanding of the State's price pattern. The successful preparation of this report has been made possible through the dedicated efforts of the officers and staff of the Prices Division, as well as the field-level officials involved in data collection and processing. I place on record a great appreciation for their commitment and hard work.

It is hoped that this publication will serve as a useful reference for policymakers, planners, researchers, academic institutions and all stakeholders interested in price analysis and economic studies. Suggestions for further improvement of this publication are always welcome.

INTRODUCTION

The Department of Economics and Statistics, Kerala is entrusted with the systematic collection, compilation, and dissemination of price statistics in the State. Prices collected by the Department are broadly classified into three major categories—Farm Prices, Wholesale Prices, and Retail Prices. These data serve as the foundation for constructing important economic indicators that reflect trends in inflation, purchasing power, agricultural prosperity, and overall market behaviour.

To analyse price movements in the economy, the Department compiles key index numbers such as the Consumer Price Index (CPI), Wholesale Price Index (WPI), Parity Index (Prices Received and Prices Paid by Farmers), and the Agricultural Wage Index. After scrutiny and consolidation, the data are transmitted to both Central and State Governments and to various agencies including the Coconut Development Board, Coir Board, State Agricultural Prices Board, Reserve Bank of India, Spices Board, and other institutions to facilitate policy formulation and operational decisions. The Prices Division, functioning under the Additional Director (Prices), exercises technical supervision over price collection, validation, index computation, and dissemination of data to users.

This publication presents a concise analysis of farm prices of major agricultural commodities during 2025. The analysis focuses on State average prices, intra-year variations, seasonal behaviour, maximum and minimum price levels, and prevailing market trends. The discussion is supported by statistical tables and graphical illustrations depicting monthly State average prices for better comprehension.

FARM PRICES

The Department has been collecting farm prices of important agricultural commodities in Kerala since 1954. Farm prices are classified into Farm Wholesale Prices and Farm Retail Prices.

Farm Wholesale Prices refer to the average wholesale price received by farmers at the farm gate or village level. In certain perennial crops, the produce may be sold while still on the tree. Data on 81 selected commodities with marketable surplus are collected fortnightly from 77 revenue taluks through Taluk Statistical Officers.

Farm Retail Prices represent the prices received by farmers when commodities are sold in smaller quantities. Retail prices of 63 items are collected monthly from the same 77 revenue taluks on the last working day of each month.

MARKET WHOLESALE PRICES

Wholesale prices of agricultural commodities are collected under the Market Intelligence Scheme. The wholesale price denotes the modal price at which the majority of bulk transactions occur during peak marketing periods. It does not represent the maximum or minimum price of the day but reflects the most frequently prevailing rate in the market.

RETAIL PRICES

Retail price is defined as the price paid by the ultimate consumer for small-quantity purchases. The Department collects various categories of retail prices, including:

- Weekly and monthly retail prices of goods and services consumed by Agricultural and Industrial Workers for the compilation of CPI.
- Retail prices of additional items collected from District Headquarters as supplementary data.
- Daily retail prices of 50 + 28 essential commodities.
- Weekly retail prices of 20 + 9 selected essential commodities.
- Weekly retail and wholesale prices of fruits.
- Retail prices of forest produce collected from Kollam, Kottayam, Ernakulam and Kozhikode.
- Ayurveda raw materials collected from Thiruvananthapuram and Ernakulam.
- Dietary article.

Special emphasis is given to monitoring retail prices of essential commodities, as fluctuations directly influence household income and purchasing power, particularly among vulnerable sections. Daily reports of essential commodity prices collected from district headquarters are forwarded to higher authorities for timely review and intervention.

SPECIAL PRICE COLLECTIONS

The Department also collects:

- Monthly market rates of waste paper and scrap items for administrative purposes.
- Weekly wholesale prices of coir and coconut husk from major producing centres.
- Weekly prices of selected spices such as nutmeg, mace, cinnamon, cocoa, cloves, pepper, and vanilla from major producing districts.
- Weekly and monthly wholesale, retail prices and stock positions of salt from designated centres and district headquarters.
- Weekly prices of dry cocoa from major cocoa-growing centres.

PRICE INDEX NUMBERS

Index numbers measure relative changes in economic variables over time and are often regarded as economic barometers. They provide insight into trends in prices, wages, and purchasing power and are vital for planning and policy decisions. The indices presented in this publication include:

1. Consumer Price Index (CPI) for Industrial Workers (IW) and Agricultural Labourers (AL) (Base 2011–12 = 100)
2. Wholesale Price Index (WPI) for agricultural commodities (Base 2015–16 = 100)
3. Parity Index (Base 1952–53 and revised Base 2019–20)
4. Wage Index (Base 2019–20 = 100)
5. Consumer Price Index – Rural/Urban Combined (Base 2018 = 100)

The CPI measures changes in the retail prices of a fixed basket of goods and services consumed by specified population groups. The Wage Index tracks changes in wage rates of skilled and unskilled agricultural labourers across selected centres. The Parity Index reflects the relative economic position of farmers by comparing prices received for produce with prices paid for inputs and consumption. The WPI measures changes in wholesale prices of 24 major agricultural commodities under the Market Intelligence Scheme.

This publication aims to provide a comprehensive statistical account of price behaviour in the State and to serve as a reliable reference for policymakers, administrators, researchers, and other stakeholders engaged in economic planning and market analysis.

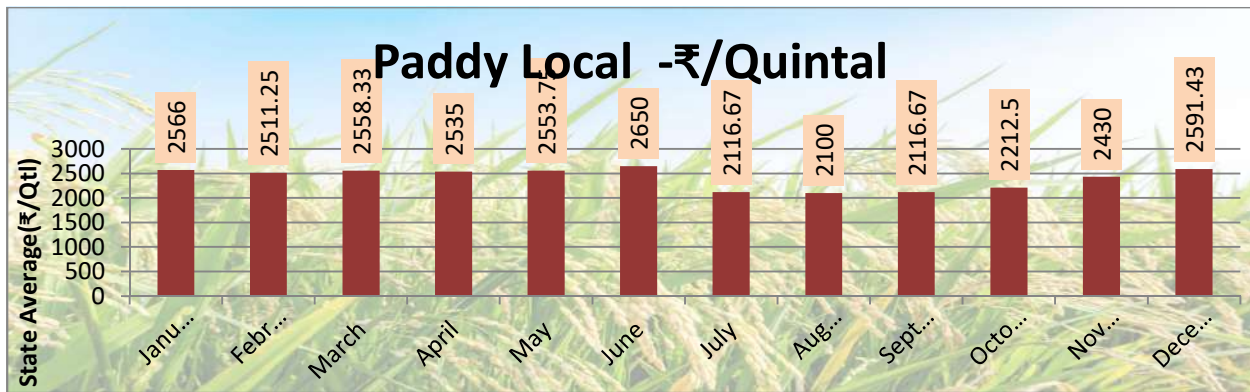

Data Analysis for Major Crops

The monthly state average prices of selected major crops were analysed using data sourced from the EARAS database. The study examines the price behaviour of these commodities throughout the year 2025, highlighting significant trends, fluctuations, and seasonal variations observed during the period. The analysis is based exclusively on state average price data and provides a comprehensive overview of price movements from January to December 2025. Supporting tables, charts, and graphical illustrations have been included to facilitate a clear understanding of the observed patterns. Detailed item-wise analyses and key findings are presented in the subsequent sections of this report.
